BIG DETECTIVE PICTURE. AT BREED.

This great film is adapted from Richard Harding Davis' little history of a nisht's adventure called Van Bibber's Burglar, and its iwo principal characters as well as that evening's adventure are contained in this picture. It tells in a most thrilling manner of a burglar who is released from prison and is about to commit another crime, when discovered by Van Bibber. The latter takes him to his room attracted by some evidence of manhoid that yet remains, and, dressing him in the best clothing he can procure, has the valet bring him before a big mirror that he may see his real self. The convict is overcome, and is and his wife's fare to a remote city in the west, that he may not be him militated by the recalling of his past.

Later Van Bibber is seen opening his mail when he comes across a photo of his convict friend, wife and child in most prosperous circumstances. The funeral of Mrs. Mary Ann Rogers, widow of Glies Williams, was held Tuesday afternoon from the home Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Cameron on Greenmanville avenue at 2 o'clock and was largely attended. Many relatives came from Norwich and Montville where she formerly resided. Rev. C. T. Hatch, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, conducted the services, Mrs. Williams being a member and regular attendant of that church until she was forced to give up by ill-ness. She was also a member of the Ladies' Aid society and for many years first directress of that society. Burial was in Elm Grove cemetary.
